

Code of Ethics Management

From the National Management Association

1. I will recognize that all individuals inherently desire to practice their occupations to the best of their ability. I will assume that all individuals want to do their best.
2. I will maintain a broad and balanced outlook and will recognize value in the ideas and opinions of others.
3. I will be guided in all my activities by truth, accuracy, fair dealing and good taste.
4. I will keep informed on the latest developments in techniques, equipment and processes. I will recommend or initiate methods to increase productivity and efficiency.
5. I will support efforts to strengthen the management profession through training and education.
6. I will help my associates reach personal and professional fulfillment.
7. I will promote the principles of our American Enterprise System to others, by highlighting its accomplishments and displaying confidence in its future.
8. I will earn and carefully guard my reputation for good moral character and good citizenship.
9. I will recognize that leadership is a call to service.